

What's New? MAD LASHES

Marwa Al Jaber, the Bahrain-based entrepreneur and beauty queen has the city in a tizzy with the launch of her latest collection of MadCosmetics featuring MadLashes and MadBrushes. Loved for its quality and competitive pricing, these new product lines are now exclusively available at Paris Gallery, offering women a chance to experiment with their looks so they can up the glamour quotient without breaking the bank.

What we recommend? The exclusive 3D Mink Edition of 100% mink hair lashes that can be used up to 50 times. The collection of hand-made products are exquisitely shaped with an extremely beautiful and natural look, helping create that look that everyone desires.

What we love? The full range of hand-made makeup brushes made of 100% certified goat hair for perfect face and body application.

Treatment of the Month

LET'S GET NOSTALGIC

With the Christmas spirit well upon the city, it's time for a little bit of indulgence and we couldn't resist the urge to test out the SensAsia's tantalizing new treatments designed especially for the festive season. Spoilt for choice with a tempting list, creatively and aptly titled to suit the mood, there's a lot to choose from (Silent Night, Santa's Knotty Little Helpers, the Holly Jolly Cocoa Butter Massage for Adults and Kids and many more) and so we settled for something called 'Let's Get Nostalgic'.

The Treatment: Heading over to the SensAsia Urban Spa at The Palm, I stepped into the signature SensAsia ambiance that I have always been a huge fan off and couldn't wait to experience this top-to-toe indulgence. My therapist, Zainab greeted me shortly after I filled out the mandatory health and acknowledgement form and as soon as I had changed into the comfy bathrobe, I was guided to my treatment room where a warm Milk & Peppermint footbath awaited me. The treatment began with a full body scrub consisting of brown sugar, cinnamon and spices, cocoa butter, vanilla, orange and maple syrup. This mix, I was told, invigorates the skin, eliminates dead and dry skin, and rids the body of toxins. After a shower, I was ready for a Body Wrap but before that I was drizzled all over with warm honey syrup, vanilla and milk to moisturize the skin and by the time the therapist was half way through I began to have double thoughts on my choice of treatment, given the amount of stickiness I had to deal with! After lying in a heated bed and a full body, plastic wrap I washed off the gummy concoction with warm water only to feel the softest, smoothest, silkiest skin I have ever had! The final part was probably the cherry on top of the treatment, because the one hour Balinese massage (which included the face and head) was the perfect way to unwind, relax and treat myself with some much-needed, guilt-free TLC.

Pamper your BFF or loved one with a festive gift voucher which can be delivered to the door and choose from a portfolio of fun massages such as 'Meet Me Under The Mistletoe', 'You Totally Made Santa's Nice List' or 'Thank You, You're Spa-tacular!'

The Verdict: Although it's the busiest time of the year, this is perhaps the ideal time to make sure you treat yourself before breaking the bank with gifts for loved ones and the rest of your circle. Let's Get Nostalgic is ideal if you want that mix of skin-loving, stress-relieving, quality-time for yourself and you can be sure that you'll step out feeling wonderful on the inside and out.

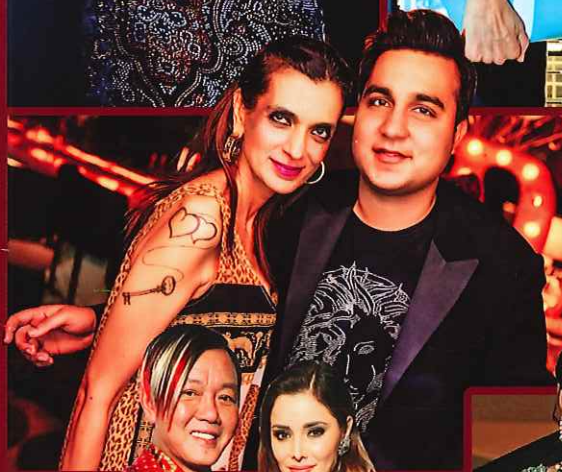

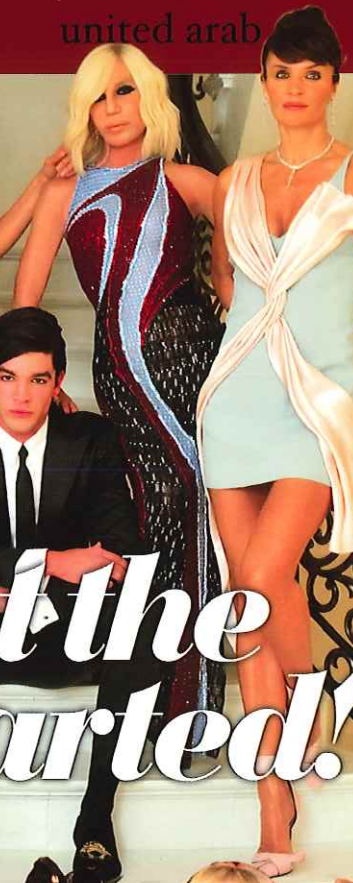

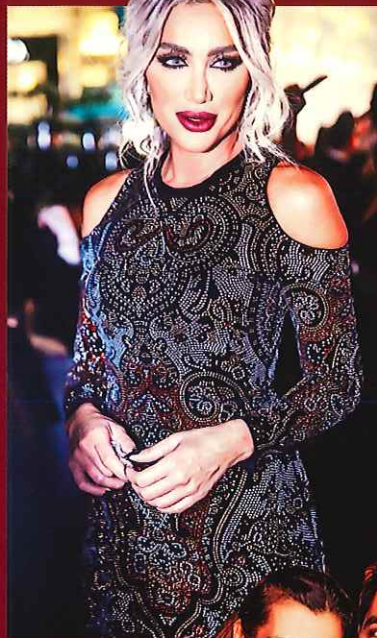

*The treatment lasts 120 minutes and costs AED 699.
